Part IV - Narrative description of Your Activities

The Palmyra-Eagle Community Band (PECB) was formed in 1993 by "Band Manager" Alice Ventura. There were four (4) musicians present at the first rehearsal. The first concert was presented on June 14, 1993, Flag Day, in the Palmyra Village Park. Through the years, membership has grown to 30 plus members. Members are of all ages and generally residents of the Villages of Palmyra and Eagle area. Band membership is all volunteer, with no auditions, open to anyone who wants to play and learn music and perform in public concerts. The band is supported financially by free-will contributions from local businesses, civic groups, private persons and the band members themselves. From time to time PECB will perform concerts at venues for which it will receive a monetary donation. All concerts are "Free Admission."

A typical concert season starts with weekly rehearsals beginning in late January or early February. These rehearsals are held on Monday evenings, usually at Palmyra-Eagle High School's band room or the Palmyra-Eagle Grade School, when High School activities take precedence. (The School District does not charge local organizations for use of facilities, thus there is no charge to the PECB for use of the band rooms.) Rehearsals begin at 7:00 pm and conclude around 8:30 pm. PECB's first performance of the season is usually providing music for a community Lenten Service held at the Palmyra United Methodist Church on a Wednesday in March. Each May and October the band performs a concert for the residents of the Fairhaven Retirement Community in Whitewater, WI. Summer concerts begin in June and continue through August or September. The band presents two (2) "Park Concerts" in each community of Palmyra and Eagle. PECB typically performs a concert at the "Fathers' Day Fly-In" at Palmyra's airport and also for the Eagle Historical Society's "Ice Cream Social" in the Eagle Village Park. From time to time, PECB is invited to perform concerts for the residents of the Countryside Home in Jefferson WI. A concert is also performed at the "Family Farm Festival" held in September as a fund raiser for the Palmyra-Eagle Scholarship and Education Foundation. The season concludes with two (2) holiday concerts in December, one in each Village.

An initial "Board of Directors" was formed voluntarily at the request of Band Manager, Alice Ventura, to assist with the ongoing operations of the band. In 2007, this Board decided that the PECB should become incorporated as a 501(c)3 non-profit corporation. "By-Laws" and "Articles of Incorporation" were developed and ratified by a two-thirds (2/3) majority vote of the band membership on May 21, 2007, thus becoming Palmyra-Eagle Community Band, Inc. Tax-except status is also being pursued.

As included in its mission statement, the PECB seeks to offer amateur musicians the opportunity to perform in a concert band and to support education in concert band music. To this end, in the future, the Board has discussed providing scholarships/grants to young musicians to help further music education and providing community service recognition points to high school students who participate/perform with PECB. Also, there has been discussion about performing concerts at area grade schools to familiarize young people with concert band music and the band instruments.

P-E Community Band sets holiday concerts

PALMYRA-EAGLE — The Palmyra-Eagle Community Band's annual Christmas concerts will be held on Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Palmyra United Methodist Church and on Monday, Dec. 3, at the Eagle Elementary School.

Director Ed Pierce will raise his baton at both concerts at 7 p.m. As has been the custom since the first Christmas performance in 1974, the band members are saying "thank you" to all of the 2007 audiences by providing punch and cookies at the concert.

The Palmyra Womens Club will be assisting the festivities in Palmyra.

The band has been rehearsing every Monday evening during the autumn and hopes to please with a varied program of seasonal songs. For added pleasure, violinist Chris Mason will be performing with the band on several numbers.

Expect to hear familiar music as well as new, or different, arrangements of old favorites, and be prepared to sing out well-loved carols.

Greetings All! The vests are done. Alice had one at the Board Mtg last night and they are excellent, very classy!! We band members voted on them (color, embroidery vs screen print, etc.) at a cost per member of $15.00. The final cost came in at $17.95 due to a fee for digitizing the logo. The board agreed that the band would pick up the difference.

The term of two board members will expire this year so we will be having an election of two new ones after our rehearsal on November 26.

See you all on Monday!

Palmyra-Eagle Community Band sets holiday concerts

The Palmyra-Eagle Community Band's annual Christmas concerts will be held on Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Palmyra United Methodist Church, and Monday, Dec. 3, at the Eagle Elementary School.

Director Ed Pierce will raise his baton at both concerts at 7 p.m.

As has been the custom since the first Christmas performance in 1974, the band members are saying "thank you" to all of the 2007 audiences by providing punch and cookies.

The Palmyra Woman's Club will be assisting at the festivities in Palmyra.

Band members have been rehearsing every Monday evening during the autumn and hope to please everyone with a varied program of seasonal songs.

For everyone's added pleasure, violinist Chris Mason will be performing with the band on several numbers. Expect to hear familiar music as well as new or different arrangements of old favorites and be prepared to sing out on well-loved carols.

Mark your calendars – Dec. 2 and 3 – for a musical start to the holiday season.

Bear auction enters final week in Eagle

The Eagle Historical Society history bears will leave the Eagle branch office of Citizens Bank of Mukwonago to waltz over to Eagle Elementary School Monday, Dec. 3, for the Palmyra-Eagle Community Band's 7 p.m. Christmas concert.

This week's featured bear is Clayton Bear, representing the Palmyra Eagle Community Band. He is dressed in a band vest, hat and holds a drum. Press his tummy and hear him play. Clayton was named in memory of Clayton Clark, musician, band director and one of the original members of the band organized in 1993. The band, under the direction of Ed Pierce, is following in the tradition of former Eagle bands. In the 1880s, the Eagle Cornet Band, under the direction of J. Lins, was one of the outstanding musical organizations in Waukesha County.

There is still time to place bids and vote for your favorite bear decorated by local businesses for the Eagle Historical Society's fundraising event, which ends Dec. 8.

Meet Sleipner representing Viking Adventurer. Sleipner is a want-to-be teddy bear. He is actually a furry stick horse with a long cape. According to Norse mythology, Sleipner is a magical eight-legged steed and the greatest of all horses. His name means smooth or gliding and is related to the English word "slippery." He could provide hours of fun for a child with a good imagination. Viking Adventure is a Scandinavian board game created and designed by Stephanie Kalnes, Sleipner's donator.

Those who are interested still have time to place their bid and vote for their favorite bear decorated by local businesses for the Eagle Historical Society's fundraising event.

PECB Board Minutes 11-13-07

Meeting was called to order at 7:00 pm. Location: Home of Board President Jim Nelson. Board members present Barb Sekula, Treasurer; Jim Nelson, President; Mary Nelson, Secretary; Alice Ventura, Band Manager. Absent: Gina Neist, Director; Jim Neist, Director. Jim Neist called in by telephone and stated he and Gina would agree with decisions made by the board.

Old business:

Treasurer's report - Barb had written report of checkbook activities from the date she was elected (7/7/07) until present. Checkbook Balance as of 11/13/07 is $2,727.08.

Jim Nelson reported on progress regarding the 1023 form requesting Tax Exempt status for the band. The form is now complete. The Board reviewed the form and attachments with explanations by Jim.

CPA Lynn M Braden of Winter, Kloman, Mater & Repp S.C. has reviewed the form and offered just a few corrections/addition. One was to develop a "Conflict of Interest Policy". She gave us a sample Policy to use in developing the Band's. The "Conflict of Interest Policy" was distributed, read and accepted by unanimous voice vote of members present. Jim will have Ms. Braden review again before sending to the Feds.

Two board director terms will be expiring so election of Board Members will take place following the rehearsal on November 26, 2007. Two Band members have already volunteered to serve: Dr. Bob Miller and Gwen Zerull. Further nominations will be accepted that night.

Alice brought one of the new Band vests. The final cost is $17.95 each. Band members will pay the $15.00 voted on at the meeting and the difference will be picked up by the Band. Member Kris Runke will be leaving the Band after the Holiday concerts due to family matters. Members present decided that we would give her a vest as a going away gift.

New Business:

The CPA suggested that we obtain business liability insurance. Barb and Alice will contact the insurance companies that hold insurance on Band music and Band equipment to learn what this entails.

The Board will meet again January 22, 2008, 7:00 p.m. to seat the new members and plan the 2008 concert schedule. Barb will find out from Rev. Klatt at the Methodist Church which Lenten service will be held there.

Alice suggested that we give Mr. Ed, Band Director, the usual Holiday gift of $100.00. Approved by voice vote of members present.

The Holiday concerts will be held December 2 and 3. Barb obtained the okay to use the Methodist Church for December 2 and Alice, Eagle Elementary School for December 3.

Meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p.m.
